lender

For Rural Development SFHGLP purposes there are four main categories; submitting lender, originating lender, holding lender, and servicing lender.

Submitting lender. A submitting lender is one that has not been approved as a participating lender in the GRH program. The FHA calls these lenders “correspondents” and in the industry they are also known as mortgage brokers. Brokers or correspondents may submit GRH loan packages, but the loans must be underwritten by an approved originating or participating Lender.

Originating lender (aka participating lender). This is a lender that has been approved as a participating lender in the GRH program. They are authorized to originate and close GRH loans. The FHA calls these “supervised lenders” (those regulated by a Federal entity like the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA), the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) or the Federal Reserve Banks (FRB) and “un-supervised lenders” (those not regulated by a Federal entity but still qualified to originate loans for FHA).

Holding lender. A holding lender or holder is an approved lender that has originated or purchased GRH loans and “holds” or owns the promissory note. The holder is entitled to the income stream from the mortgage payments. The holder may service the loans they hold or own, or elect to sell the servicing rights to a servicing lender. The servicing lender pays the holder as mortgage payments are received or when foreclosed property has been sold.

Servicing lender. A servicing lender or servicer does not originate loans, but purchases the servicing rights to them from a holder. A servicer receives and applies payments, administers tax and insurance escrows, deploys collection efforts against a delinquent borrower, and liquidates defaulted loans and acquired collateral. Depending upon the servicing contract, a servicing lender or the holder may ultimately submit the loss claim to the Agency. A servicing lender may or may not “hold” or own the note.

In States providing a redemption period, the Lender does not typically acquire title until after expiration of the redemption period.
